

Subscriber Service Terms & Display License

These Terms apply to your Daily Youra Cartoon subscription and are incorporated into the purchase made through Youra Media's subscription checkout.

1. The Service

Your subscription provides a current Daily Youra Cartoon through the permanent embed address supplied to you. Youra Media intends to publish a new cartoon every day, including weekends.

2. Authorized Display

During an active paid subscription, you may display the Daily Youra Cartoon through the provided code on your website, newsletter, intranet, digital display, or other location approved for your purchase. This is a limited display license; no ownership of the Daily Youra Cartoon or its underlying copyright is transferred.

3. Use Restrictions

You may not copy, alter, scrape, archive for public access, republish, redistribute, sublicense, sell, or use individual Daily Youra Cartoons separately from the authorized, syndicated display without prior written permission from Youra Media.

4. Subscriber Responsibilities

You are responsible for your own website, display platform, internet connection, and correct installation of the code. Promptly notify Youra Media if the Daily Youra Cartoon fails to display.

5. Service Continuity

Youra Media will work promptly to correct a material interruption in the syndicated Daily Youra Cartoon caused by its publishing service. If an interruption lasts more than three consecutive calendar days, Youra Media will provide a proportional extension of service or a proportional credit. This remedy does not apply to a subscriber's platform, code changes, internet outage, or unauthorized use.

6. Billing and Cancellation

The subscription renews at the price and billing interval shown at checkout unless canceled. You may cancel through the Stripe subscription-management route provided with your purchase or by contacting youramedia@pm.me. Cancellation stops future renewal charges; display permission ends when the paid subscription period ends.

7. Changes and Support

Youra Media may improve the format, design, or delivery of the Daily Youra Cartoon while preserving its basic service. Material changes to pricing or these Terms will be announced before the next applicable billing period.

8. Assistance

Email youramedia@pm.me or visit Youra.net/support/. Please identify the website or display system, the page where you installed the code, and include a screenshot if the Daily Youra Cartoon does not appear. Never send passwords or login information.
